THE usual morning service of the Church of England will be held at the Hermitage on Christmas day, at 11 o'clock, when holy communion will be administered.

A Montreal rumor is to the effect that the Royal Commission will exonerate Mercier; that Angers will resign to enter the Dominion cabinet and Caron become governor of Quebec.

ADVERTISING calendars and Chromos are beginning to appear as Christmas approaches. Hutchings & Riley, harness makers, present one of the very handsomest the BULLETIN has yet seen.

MANY enquiries are being made regarding lands at the Edmonton land office, both personally and by letter, and there is every prospect of an unprecedentedly big business in the spring.

THE recent mild weather caused a considerable run of water on the river. This is now frozen giving excellent opportunity for skating. A rink has been cleared off a little above the mill.

THE Northwest Gazette of December 1st contains a proclamation taking the north-east quarter of section 15 township 53, range 24, east of the 4th meridian from the Sturgeon school district.

NO telegrams this week as the wires are down on the C. P. R., the result of a severe blizzard. This can hardly be believed in view of the perfectly calm weather we have been enjoying here.

THE C & E. hotel, south side, was opened for the first time on Thursday night. The building is large, well finished and well furnished. It is in charge of Mr. Sharples, formerly kining car conductor on the C. P. R.

L. LEPADE, of Fort Saskatchewan, arrived from Rimouski, Quebec, on Thursday of last week, bringing several settlers from that part of the country with a car load of effects. The new comers will settle near Fort Saskatchewan.

W. Laurie of Regina and J. H. Wrigley of Calgary are applying to the Northwest assembly for enrollment as advocates, without being compelled to comply with the terms of the ordinance regarding the legal profession.

A HUNTING party, consisting of J. Brown, Jas. Goodridge, L. Kelly and W. S. Robertson, got two deer at the Horse Hill yesterday, and saw a band of seven. One deer was shot by Mr. Goodridge and one by Messrs. Robertson and Kelly.

THE Imperial bank, at Calgary, has purchased from the H. B. Co. the stone building formerly occupied by I. G. Baker & Co. The price paid is $15,000. Extensive improvements will be made to the premises which will cost about $14,000.

PLATE glass windows, 6x4 feet in size, have been put in the front of Larne & Picard's new store on Jasper avenue. These are the first plate glass windows in town and give the front a most attractive appearance. The store will soon be ready for occupation.

THE assembly meets on Thursday of next week. The session is likely to be long, both on account of the number of important matters that have now to be dealt with by the assembly and the delay that will, no doubt, be occasioned by the Christmas holidays.

BECK & McNamara's new building opposite the BULLETIN office is nearly ready for occupation. The lower flat is occupied by P. Heinicke & Co., real estate agents and is divided into three handsome rooms. The upper story is occupied by Beck & McNamara and is also divided into three rooms.

Jas. and Ronald McDonald arrived from Glengarry, Ont., on Thursday of last week with two car loads of settlers' effects, which included 15 horses and four Holstein cows and a bull, the first importation of that breed in this district. The Messrs. McDonald settled in the Egg lake district, north of St. Albert.

THE repairs to the old mill dam on the Sturgeon river are completed and the water turned on the wheel. Grain crushing will be commenced in a few days. The foundation of the saw mill is being laid and as soon as the saw can be run the grist mill building will be started. It is expected that the grist mill will be at work in March.

MR. and Mrs. Isaac Cowie arrived from Winnipeg on Monday's train to reside at Edmonton. Mr. Cowie was, for many years, in the H. E. service, in the Athabasca district, being in charge of Fort McMurray. He is opening a commission, insurance and general agency business in Edmonton, including the sale of fruit trees and bushes.

The funeral will leave the Edmonton detachment barracks at 1:30 p.m., to-morrow, Sunday, for the Presbyterian Church, thence to the Edmonton cemetery.

HALE, ROSS & Co., of the Victoria rice and flour mills, have written to Norris & Carey for quotations for 100 tons of Ladoga wheat, similar to sample sent, sacked free on board cars at Edmonton. This is a pretty fair answer to the question: "Where is your market for grain at Edmonton?" But access to the market depends on the rates given by the C. P. R.

Free Press: Mr. H. Akerlodeh, who is engaged to Swedish immigration work, arrived yesterday from Ottawa accompanied by Mr. Erickson. These gentlemen are bound for the Northwest, where they intend selecting lands for some one hundred Swedish families who are expected to arrive next spring. These gentlemen visited Edmonton on Thursday's train. They left on Friday.

THE regular meeting of the Edmonton curling club was held in the rink last evening. W. H. Clark was engaged as caretaker at $25 a month. A motion was carried permitting the caretaker to be a member of the club. A proposition to engage a house at Regina in February was not agreed to. Seven rinks were handed in. Play will commence next week. The ice is in excellent condition.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, DEC. 5, 1891.

DAKOTA FARMERS.

A large party of Dakota and Minnesota farmers arrived on Monday's train to spy out the land with a view to settlement. They were: Wm. Ritchie, Grafton, North Dakota; J. J. Scott, Lake City, Minnesota; Jas. Miller and E. C. Smith and wife, Crookston, Minnesota; R. Ritchie, A. Ashen, M. Nelson and Thomas Oliver, Belmont, North Dakota. Wm. Ritchie visited Edmonton with another party from Grafton in the fall, and with the whole party was so well pleased with the district that arrangements have been made by him or a party of about fifty to come out in November; but the very early winter and particularly the stormy weather of the latter end of October and all November decided the majority to defer their visit until spring. The party were driven to Stony Plain by M. McCauley, visiting as many of the homes as possible, inspecting their grain and conversing with them as to the advantages and drawbacks of the district. Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. Miller left on Wednesday's train. On Thursday several members of the party were driven to Clover Bar by R. F. Shaw. Messrs. W. Ritchie, Oliver and Ashen left on Friday's train. Mr. Nelson and R. Ritchie remaining with a view to locating at once, or investing. Several members of the party desire to invest in improved property and others would like to homestead, but as there is a little snow on the ground they fear making a bad selection and will defer taking land until they return. A great drawback to the appearance of this district is that so much land is owned and yet uncultivated. For this of course the reserved odd sections are greatly to blame, and also the five years system of homesteading under which a settler is not compelled to reside on his land for the first two years. As the principal rush of settlers was during the season just past and many of the homesteads were taken under the five years system, comparatively few are yet occupied. This is an objection however, that time will right. The C. P. R. lands too will likely be placed in the market shortly, probably about new years, and this will give more men who have a little means the opportunity to acquire lands at a low price and settle in the heart of the present settlements, with roads, schools and churches convenient, and near town as well. The wheat examined in the farmers' bins was pronounced almost universally No. 1 hard, the little drawback being some smut. Oats were better than can be raised in Dakota, and barley equally good. The rank growth of wild grass attracted great and favorable attention. Grafton, North Dakota, from the vicinity of which most of the visitors came is in the Red River valley, and the surrounding district, with the Red River valley generally, has been more prosperous than the rest of Dakota. In the valley there have been some very short crops, but no total failures such as other parts of the state have suffered from. But many of the settlers finding wheat farming a risky and unprofitable factory are desirous of locating where mixed farming can be carried on, and being able to sell out to good advantage, feel like doing so and removing to the Edmonton district suits them, this is where they will come. There are also a large number of men, who having been starved out in the western part of the state, are renting farms in the valley and having got a little ahead, or perhaps a little behind, desire to try their fortunes again on land of their own. The larger number are Canadians. It is estimated that nearly one-third of the population of North Dakota is from Canada. The high municipal taxes and low political methods followed in the United States have an effect in inducing these people to think of returning to Canada. They are most a desirable class of settlers in every way.

Free Press, Nov. 26.—A party of nearly one hundred German immigrants arrived Saturday morning. The German immigration to this country this year exceeds that of all other non-English speaking nationalities. Reports received by the companies interested in emigration to the Northwest state that hundreds of German farmers in Southern Russia are preparing to leave for the Northwest.

NORTH-WEST ASSEMBLY.

The North-West Gazette of December 1st contains the list of members of the assembly returned at the recent elections: Moosomin, John Ryerson Neff. Wallace, Joel Reaman. Whitewood, Dan Campbell. Storrle, George Henry Knowling. Wolsley, James Peers Dill. South Qu'Appelle, George Sutherland. North Qu'Appelle, William Sutherland. North Regina, David Finlay Jolly. South Regina, Daniel Mowat. Moose Jaw, James Hamilton Ross. Carleton Place, Samuel Spencer Pace. Medicine Hat, Thomas Tweed. Lethbridge, Charles Alexander Magrath. Lethbridge, Frederick William Gordon Haultain. Calgary, John Lineham, Hugh St. Quentin Cayley. Banff, Robert George Brett. Red Deer, Francis Edward Wilkins. Edmonton, Frank Oliver. St. Albert, Antonio Prince. Battleford, James Clunkskill. Mitchell, Hillyard Mitchell. Batzche, Charles Nolin. Kindred, William Frederick Myers. Prince Albert, Thomas McKay. Cumberland, John Felton Belts. The same issue of the Gazette calls the assembly together on December 10th.

FARMERS' UNION.

A meeting of farmers of the Sturgeon river settlement was held in the Sturgeon school house on December 1st. G. S. Long was chairman and stated that the object of the meeting was to discuss the advisability of forming a farmers' union and the best way to go about it. On motion of R. Kelly, seconded by M. McKinley, W. H. Carson was elected secretary. A lively discussion was entered into during which J. H. Long said that he believed a union would be a benefit as a means of exchanging ideas regarding the best modes of farming in its different branches, and as well a means by which communication with distant markets might be opened up and thus enable the farmers to secure the best possible price for their produce. Messrs. C. Carson, C. Whalen, R. Kelly, Thos. Wilson, D. Craig, R. Bailey, W. Nicolson, M. McKinley, Geo. S. Long and W. H. Carson, expressed themselves as pleased with the move, and thought that a great deal of our imports might be got by such a union much lower than otherwise. Moved by M. McKinley, seconded by C. Whalen, and carried that the chairman and secretary and for copies of the by-laws and regulations of other farmers' unions and after receiving them call another meeting of the settlement and discuss the subject.

L. ADAMSON of Clover Bar recently handed the BULLETIN the first six numbers of "Colonia" the quarterly magazine of the Colonial College at Hollesley Bay, Suffolk, England. The Colonial college is an institution in which young men desirous of removing from Great Britain to any of her colonies are given such a preliminary training in farm work and other employments as will enable them with greater ease to adapt themselves to their new surroundings after they have removed. From the contents of the magazine it is apparent that the instruction given by the college is of a most practical nature, and well suited to fulfil the object of its existence. A most interesting and useful part of the later numbers of the magazine are the accounts of their progress sent from time to time by emigrant graduates. The interchange of information between residents of all quarters of the empire cannot fail to be useful as well as entertaining. Canada and particularly the Northwest gets a fair share of the attention of the magazine and Mr. Adamson, by contributing to its pages, has taken care that the Edmonton district shall not be lost sight of.

HUGH MCKAY recently received a letter from two young Englishmen asking for situations as farm servants, enquiring the rate of wages and how many years they would have to serve. They are unused to farm work but have good references. It is difficult to answer such an enquiry. The young men might find farm life unsuited to them or they might be unsuited to it. The country needs workers with ambition to become land owners and offers full scope to energy and ambition combined, but not to either one or the other separately. Wages are from $20 to $40 a month according to the times and seasons, with board included. Engagements are generally by the season, and wages are counted by the month. References are no use. A man either suits or he does not suit. The fact that he did or did not suit his employer in England, would not affect his case here a particle.

A WEEK or two ago a number of respectable citizens of Edmonton were simultaneously surprised at receiving amongst their respective mails a letter apparently addressed to them in mistake. The letters were addressed "Dear May" and signed "Belle." The tenor of the letters was of a nature apparently foreign to business matters, and the reason of their being written was a puzzle to every one receiving them. A close inspection revealed that the letters although apparently written were really printed, and a further inspection showed that they were a new style of advertising dodge for a certain brand of tea.

THE announcement by the publishers of the Dominion Illustrated that they would this year issue a Christmas number more beautiful and valuable than even their own last year's issue has been followed by a rush of orders from every portion of the Dominion. This number will be a purely Canadian work in the fullest sense, and as a souvenir to send to absent friends will not be surpassed, while its literary merit and artistic beauty combined with the magnificent special supplements will render it a welcome and a charming visitor in every home from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

M. McCauley returned from Winnipeg on Monday's train. The weather was very severe during his trip east, the thermometer going down to 30 below in Winnipeg, and being reported as low as 40 below at Selkirk. There is a vast amount of wheat being moved in Manitoba, but a great deal of it is badly frozen. Edmonton stands high in public favor and there is every prospect of a great movement of population to this district in the spring. Mrs. McCauley, who accompanied Mr. McCauley to Manitoba, is in Brandon under medical treatment.

The funeral of the late Fred. A. Macdonald took place on Tuesday afternoon last from the residence of his brother, D. W. Macdonald, to the Edmonton cemetery. The funeral service was held in All Saints' church by Rev. C. Cunningham. Deceased was a very promising young man who came to Edmonton last summer from Saskatoon, in company with his brother, D. W. Macdonald, druggist. The parents of deceased reside in Qu'Appelle. The sudden illness and death of the young man, a comparative stranger in the place, was most melancholy. The surviving relatives have the sympathy of the community.

At the annual meeting of the ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian Church, held on Tuesday, 1st inst., the following resolution of sympathy was passed: "That we, the members of the ladies' aid society of the Edmonton Presbyterian congregation, take this opportunity of formally recognizing the great loss our society has sustained in the death of our late esteemed president, Mrs. Alex. Taylor, and also sincerely expressing our sympathy with the bereaved husband and friends in this their great affliction. By her grace and wisdom, ever since she entered upon her duties as President, she guided wisely and well the business of the society, through many difficulties at the most important time of our congregation's history."

WEDDING.

At 9 o'clock, Wednesday evening, a very pleasant event occurred at Mr. Connor's residence, being the marriage of Mr. Edward Looby to Miss Minnie E. Connor, formerly of Brockville, Ont., and now of Edmonton. The Rev. Mr. Cunningham tied the nuptial knot in presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties. Mr. F. Ross, and Miss Lou Connor, sister of the bride, acted as best man and bridesmaid respectively, and did their parts well. After the ceremony the customary wedding breakfast was partaken of by about thirty couples. The gifts to the bride were handsome and numerous, reflecting the kind wishes and hearty congratulations of the many warm friends of the young couple on the happy occasion.
